

Washington State Convention & Trade Center

Located in the heart of downtown Seattle, the Washington State Convention & Trade Center hosts hundreds of thousands of visitors annually. The Center is convenient to many of Seattle's most luxurious hotels, symphony halls, theaters, museums and one of the country's best shopping experiences. Whether visitors choose the large retail outlets in the city's core or the unique and exciting boutiques and shops in the Pike/Pine corridor, all are within walking distance.

The Center also has its own Galleria of business services and shops located on the first level. A printer, restaurant, coffee house, visitor information center, beauty salon, health club and much more are all available for tourists, delegates and visitors from adjacent neighborhoods.

A two-level, 1,581-space parking garage is located within, and operated by, the Center. It can be accessed on 8th Avenue between Seneca and Pike Streets. Passengers may also be dropped off at the covered entrance on Convention Place. Buses, taxi cabs and shuttles also use this area for passenger drop-off and pick-up.
